

HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

They had ants in the asphalt at the new community parking lot not long ago.

It seems that a few million Ocean Beach ants—the subversive red variety—went underground when the parking lot at Santa Monica Ave. and Cable St. was leveled and surfaced.

However, about two weeks after the asphalt was laid, the leaders decided the time was ripe to revolt. They called their red cells into action and began boring from within.

"The ants drilled right up through the pavement," said Russ Wilson. "Then they began building mounds on the parking lot."

That was when Wilson, of the Blue Pacific Nursery, decided that things had gone far enough. As a volunteer vigilante committee of one, he poured Cloridane dust on the colonies of swarming ants.

End of the red menace.

With the approach of the Hawaiian Daz-O-Fun here, Charlie Freeman whispered in my shell-like ear the startling intelligence that grass skirts came originally from Milwaukee.

He cited a letter from W. K. Bassett, administrative assistant to the mayor of Honolulu, as evidence.

Bassett wrote: "Actually, grass skirts are not originally Hawaiian. When the missionaries came here from Massachusetts in 1820 they were naturally shocked by the appearance of Hawaiian women who wore nothing but loin cloths, or what you might call 'wrap-arounds' of tapa cloth made from the bark of trees.

"Many of the hula girls garb themselves to imitate this in their shows now. (Incidentally I believe that the grass skirts, which seem to be accepted as the proper hula costume, originally came here from a Milwaukee concern.")

R. J. Gardner, of 3404 Hill St., is the proud grandfather of two young baseball players who performed for Cabrillo School before moving away about a year ago.

They are Jerry, 12, and Lorie Gardner, 10, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Novall Gardner, who used to live on Hill St.

According to a clipping from the Temple City Times, cited by Grandpa Gardner, the two boys recently played in a sensational game in the Sunny Slope Little League. This saw the star pitchers of the rival Little Rebels and Mack's Cubs each hurl a no-hitter.

Yeah, there were no hits by either team. But the fourth inning featured the two young Gardners, playing for the Little Rebels.

Lorie was walked by the Cubs' pitcher. Then, with two out, Jerry Gardner swatted an easy one to the shortstop, who bobbled it and threw the ball over the first baseman's head. Lorie scampered for home—and that was the ball game.

Final score: Rebels 1, Cubs 0.

This would be a good place to recall that I was quite a baseball player in my youth. Yeah, only I couldn't hit.

I remember our elementary school team riding out to Ocean Beach on the old street car line for a game with the local "grammar school," as we called it then.

We had no uniforms except caps—and boy, we were proud of them!

Well, I remember that street car ride but don't remember the game. How do you like that?

New O. B. Parking Lot Not Supported by O. B.

Are we looking to the future in Ocean Beach?

Harry La Dou, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday he had been notified by owners of the new community parking lot at Santa Monica Ave. and Cable St. that it is not being supported by the community.

"I believe this is a serious situation," he said. "The Chamber, looking to the future, some months ago encouraged formation of a corporation by several local business men to establish this parking lot.

"Their objective was not to make a lot of money but to help the community. They stand to profit very little. However, they have made a large investment in buying the lot and improving it, with a view to benefiting local merchants and their customers.

"Now, they tell me that the merchants have not supported either of two plans offered to them. One was a ticket validation plan, the other a subscription plan—either of which would have provided their customers free parking.

"As a result, the owners are losing money every day on the parking lot. They have offers whereby they can sell it at a profit.

"Do we want this to happen?"

La Dou pointed out that virtually every city in the U. S. reports that parking is its principal problem. "We should look ahead in this matter," he said. "Improvement of the local beach seems assured, with both the U. S. Government and the City cooperating in plans to repair erosion. The steady growth of the community indicates the Peninsula area will be built up solid before long, thus greatly increasing the parking problem.

"If we can hold this parking lot only a short time, the need is sure to become so intense that there will be no question of its importance.

"The parking lot is there—we are going to be short-sighted enough to let it slip out of our grasp now?"

La Dou asked local merchants to indicate their feelings in the matter by phoning him at AC-3-1643, or John Pierce, Chamber secretary at AC-3-9767 (mornings.)

Elizabeth Bowen Grand Opening Fri. And Sat.

The Peninsula welcomed a new business establishment this week.

Grand opening of the Elizabeth Bowen Women's Apparel Store, 4926 Newport Ave., is set for tomorrow and Saturday, Aug. 6 and 7.

A complete line of women's ready-to-wear apparel is offered. This includes Petties, Juniors, 15, half-sizes, Misses 8 to 20, maternity wear, casual play shoes, and a complete line of intimate wear.

There will be free orchids for the women and free balloons for the children tomorrow and Saturday, Aug. 13 and 14.

The gifts include a hair dryer, Hamilton beach mixer, West-bend percolator, General Electric iron, Presto cooker, and Westinghouse roaster and stand.

Store hours tomorrow are 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Charge accounts, 30-, 60- and 90-day, are invited.

SALE OF FISHING LICENSES HITS ALL-TIME HIGH

Sale of fishing licenses in California hit an all-time monthly high during May of this year when 231,000 licenses were sold, reports the National Automobile Club. Highest sales prior to that month had been in May of 1953, when 207,000 licenses were sold.

OUTBOARD CLUB FISH CONTEST

Fred Stewart, of La Jolla, caught a 28-pound halibut to take first prize in the opening two-day period of the Fishing Contest sponsored by the Outboard Boating Club of San Diego, it was reported yesterday by Commodore F. A. Wolf of Ocean Beach.

Another big week-end of fishing is coming up Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 7-8, dates for the second contest period.

Wolf said that about 100 outboard motor boats participated last week-end, with between 200 and 300 fishermen. "We expect twice as many this Saturday and Sunday," he said.

There were 14 winners in the initial competition. Mrs. Charles George, Chula Vista, took second prize with a 22-pound sheepshead. Third was W. C. Dargo, San Diego, 16-pound 3-ounce yellowtail, while Paul Eklund, San Diego, was fourth with a 12-pound barracuda.

Fish may be caught anywhere in local waters but must be brought to Shelter Island Ramp with boat. Entry tickets may be bought from sporting goods dealers and others merchants or at the ramp. Also, at the south end of the La Jolla beach next to the Beach & Tennis Club.

BING CROSBY HANDICAP AT DEL MAR SAT.

DEL MAR—From a near-record list of 15 nominations, a field of at least a dozen top sprinters will trek postward here Saturday to the $10,000 added Bing Crosby Handicap at six furlongs as Del Mar Turf Club winds up its first week of thoroughbred racing.

The Bing Crosby, named in honor of Del Mar's founder and first president, has had eight previous runnings, and has been captured by such campaigners as Prevaricator, Cover Up, Blue Reading, Gustaf and Ode. Winner of this stake generally comes in for recognition as the sprint champion of the 41-day meeting.

Big Noise, who represents the entertainment world favorites, Harry James and Betty Grable, will be back this season endeavoring to snare the purse that eluded him last year when he finished second to G. I. Martin's Ode. Another horse making his second Bing Crosby appearance is the iron horse of California racing, Mr. and Mrs. N. Gordon Phillips' Stranglehold. Stranglehold was third last year.

Martin will be seeking his second straight score in the Bing Crosby, this time with the hard-hitting filly, Alibhai Lynn. The filly found the Del Mar racing strip geared to her liking here on opening day when she trounced a field limited to her sex in the Inaugural Handicap while packing high weight of 118 pounds.

The 2-year-old champion of England last year, Bell and Johnstone's The Pie King, may make his Del Mar debut in the week-end stake. The Pie King is regarded as one of the top thoroughbred imports of all CLIFF CRASH—This huge furniture trailer is being hoisted from the cove at the foot of Osprey St., where it landed Saturday after careening down the steep street behind a "tractor" truck, Frank Hudson, 31, of Herington, Kan., rode the runaway rig over Sunset Cliffs and was taken to Mercy Hospital with cracked ribs and a possible spine injury. Saturday night, household goods were removed from the big van by men working furiously against the rising tide. The vehicle was raised Sunday morning.—Michael Macconnell photo.

Prospects Good For Repair Of Beach Erosion

Assurance that a survey by Army engineers recommending restoration of the local beach would be approved by the U. S. Beach Erosion Board, was given by Col. Wendell P. Trower, board president, last week, according to Tom Drake.

Drake, chairman of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce Beach Improvement Committee, conferred with Col. Trower at a meeting in the San Diego Club. Others attending included Harry La Dou, president of the O. B. Chamber; John Pierce, secretary, and Ray Perine.

If and when the Mission Bay Channel is dredged, spoil from the dredging could be used to repair erosion damage at the local beach.

Drake expressed confidence that the City would build a groin or jetty out from the foot of Saratoga Ave. Spoil from the dredging would be filled in on both sides of this jetty.

DRAKE INSISTS SEWER COST BE HELD DOWN

An engineer who will be chosen to work out a new sewer bond proposal can be "held to a 6 to 8 million dollar limit," Tom Drake of Ocean Beach told the 15-man sewer bond study committee at a meeting in Civic Center last Thursday.

The group formed a 5-man subcommittee to recommend an engineer for the job. This includes Walter Trepte, Roscoe Hazard, Lawrence M. Klaber, Robert M. Golden and Charles T. Leigh.

Douglas R. Giddings was elected permanent chairman of the sewer bond study committee. He had been temporary chairman.

Drake said this week he had informed the committee that he would not be bound by any "gag rule"—that he will feel free to discuss the committee's work with press representatives.

"They made no comment," he reported.

(Previously, the committee had decided that statements to the press would be made only by the chairman.)

The committee meets Thursdays at 3:30 p.m. in Civic Center. At today's meeting, City employees were to be called in to outline the history of San Diego's sewage problems.

time, but sore shins keep him from regular action. Other highly regarded contenders include Hour Regards, the Del Mar Futurity winner of two season back; Southarlington, Del Mar Derby winner in 1952; the stretch-running Karim, and One Ton Tony, who equalled the track record of 57 1/5 for five furlongs in his last outing at Hollywood Park.

Medico-Dental Center Opens Here This Week

Point Loma's first Medico-Dental Center at Harbor Dr. and Scott St. opened its doors this week to show off its 6000 square feet of the newest and latest in medical offices.

Built by the Point Loma Development Corporation, the center has six suites, all piped for music. It will house four doctors and two dentists. Also, there will be a dental technician's laboratory, a medical laboratory and a pharmacy.

Between the two-building center there is a courtyard and fountain beneath egerate roofing. The old Southern California landscaping in the courtyard is accentuated by olive trees. The interior decor is pastel grays, greens and buff, sprayed with the new type paint which produces a speckled effect. The building, which was designed by Richard Wheeler, has 15,000 feet of offstreet parking.

Telephones for three physicians were installed this week. Dr. Guy V. Everist, a native of Iowa, will engage in the general practice of medicine with special interest in the diseases of the heart and lungs. Dr. Everist, who, with his wife, the former Gail Thayer of Iowa, lives at 3562 Addison St., is a

This Little Boy Was Becoming A Delinquent

Ten-year-old Robert was always in some sort of trouble. He irritated and antagonized his parents, was always hurting his little brother, fought with the neighborhood children and was rapidly becoming disliked by everyone.

Robert's mother called on the City Social Service Department for help. A field representative talked to Robert and his parents at length and discovered what was causing the trouble. Robert's little brother, Jerry, 5, was "the apple of his father's eye" and got most of the attention from both parents. Robert just couldn't take it—he felt unwanted, and reacted by striking out at the world. This took the form of aggravating his parents and hurting other children.

For some time the field representative counseled with the family and the child and helped them to recognize how their favoritism toward the younger child was at the root of the trouble. They were encouraged to show affection toward Robert. Gradually, as Robert received his fair share of attention and affection, he achieved security and was able to give up the objectionable behavior and become graduate of St. Louis University School of Medicine, class of 1935. He took post-graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and at the Heart Hospital in London, England. After service in World War II, Dr. Everist was placed on inactive duty as major in the reserves. He and Mrs. Everist came to San Diego last winter from Rolla, Missouri.

Dr. Don Frederick Kimmerling, just back from Army duty in Tokyo, will engage in the practice of internal medicine at the Center. Dr. Kimmerling, a native of Anderson, Indiana, had his premedical training at Stanford University and the University of Chicago. He took his formal medical training at Yale University School of Medicine.

He has had medical residency at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco, Collis P. and Howard Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena and at The Queen's Hospital in Honolulu. Prior to his overseas tour of duty, he practiced medicine in Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Dr. Kimmerling lives at 3825 Dixon Place with his wife, the former Elizabeth Boots of San Diego. They have two daughters, Leslie and Mimi, and a son, Ricky.

University Players Continue Activities

This unique association of the California Western University and the community, under the direction of Dr. Russell Lembeke held their regular meeting last week. Members and guests were entertained by a work shop exercise in grotesque performed by Mary Beth Lamarr. Discussions on the performance and interpretations followed.

Anyone interested in any phase of theatre work is cordially invited to join in this association. Additional information may be had by calling, AC-2-9569 and AC-2-9529.

Visitors are invited to attend the regular meeting held the first Monday of every month in the Little Theatre on the campus of the University.

a likable friendly child.

Here we find that insight and understanding plus family counseling helped an unhappy child to become a happy well-adjusted child. Instead of a potential delinquent he is now a good citizen-in-the-making.

Recognizing very early in life those children who are headed for delinquent careers and providing therapeutic service when it can be timely and effective, is an integral part of the delinquent prevention program of the City Department of Social Service.

O. B. Is Color-Splashed For Daz-O-Fun Carnival

Ocean Beach was splashed with color this week as local residents broke out in a rash of Hawaiian costume in preparation for the big Daz-O-Fun Carnival next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 13-15.

The parking lot at the foot of Newport Ave. will be transformed into a gay carnival grounds complete with entertainment, booths and rides, according to Joe Richardson, general chairman.

Mrs. Gaye Smith, program chairman, reported that special Hawaiian, variety and dance studio programs have been arranged for all three days and evenings. These will be presented on a special stage.

The Daz-O-Fun parade, featuring about 60 floats and decorated cars and four bands, is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 13.

Miss Ocean Beach will be selected in a beauty queen contest Saturday the 14th at 2 p.m. Immediately thereafter, the Royal Hawaiian Court will be chosen. To enter this costume contest, call Mrs. Dorothy Holbrook, chairman, AC-3-6892. Details are given below.

The queen will be crowned Sunday at 2 p.m.

Twelve civic organizations are participating in the operation of 18 different concessions at the carnival.

Lieut. Comdr. John A. Pierce, USN, ret., is parade chairman. He said the route is east on Voltaire St. from Abbott to Sunset Cliffs Blvd., thence south on Sunset to Newport Ave. The parade will move west on Newport to Abbott and disband after passing Santa Monica Ave.

Beauty queen contestants will ride in the parade Friday. The contest itself is sponsored by the local V.F.W., with Mrs. Bettie Knauser as chairman. As to the special programs Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the stage, Mrs. Smith said: "Here's an opportunity to see outstanding Ocean Beach talent, both in Hawaiian and variety entertainment, plus outside dancers and musicians of distinction.

"These include the Lani Sweethearts, Keala and The Beachcombers with the Rainbow Dancers, Claire 'Keahi' Thompson, her Hula Troupes, Ynez Hendrickson and her YWCA Hawaiian Group, and Helen Young's YWCA 'Y Teens'.

"Programs to be presented by local groups include the Gladys Bowen Dance Studio, the Dance Arts with authentic Hawaiian singers and accompaniment, the Bamboo Serenaders, the Gaye Hawaiiana Dancers, Ocean Beach Community Center Western Show, and the Jeans & Calico Square Dance Group.

"Special programs include Ocean Beach television stars, a talent program for the new queen and Royal Court, and Mary Ward, dancer."

Mrs. Holbrook, chairman of the Royal Court contest, urged local residents to join the fun by donning Hawaiian costume and entering the competition.

"Best typical costumes will be chosen after the queen contest Saturday," it was said. "Ladies—wear a muumuu, a long loose Hawaiian house dress. Men—use your imagination; Miss Sarong—wear any type wrap & tie dress; Miss Aloha—grass, cellophane or paper skirt; Master Keiki-Kane—a malu."

(Mrs. Holbrook may be contacted regarding costumes.) Ocean Beach Night at Lane Field Tuesday was a great success, although the Padres lost the ball game.

O. B. MIDGETS STILL PLAYING RED-HOT BALL

Ocean Beach Community Center's midget baseball team was within one game of the district championship this week after beating Bayside 7 to 2 behind the two-hit pitching of Kenny Ohlin.

In the elementary league, Homer's Variety is leading the pack. Ronnie McLeod, Terry Love and Bob Beneventi give Homer's three good pitchers, while the power is provided by Richard Maxey, Dennis Bentley and Sammy Stearne.

Another Community Center team, the Ocean Beach All-Stars, is playing good ball although boasting only one win and two losses. Pete Theriault and John Martin are the pitchers. Other outstanding players are Richard Duncan, cleanup hitter; John Whalen, scrappy catcher; Dale Hilman, a sharp-fielding shortstop, and two all-around utility men, Tom Boland and Dennis Benedict.

The August production, "Good Housekeeping" already is in production.

Daz-O-Fun Values Sale To Be Held Next Week

A big Daz-O-Fun Values Sale will be held in Ocean Beach Friday and Saturday, Aug. 13-14.

Local stores will offer outstanding values during the first two days of the Daz-O-Fun Carnival, according to Jim Noel, chairman of the Retail Committee of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce.

"The sale will be bigger and better than the recent successful Dollar Days here," he said. "It will include clothing, furniture, hardware, drug store, market, variety and department store merchandise. The latest lines and top quality will be offered at bargain prices."

The new community parking lot at Santa Monica Ave. and Cable St. affords free parking space during the sale.

Don't forget: Friday and Saturday, Aug. 13-14, in your Ocean Beach shopping center.

Funeral Services For Lloyd Davis

Rev. S. Dean McBride of Point Loma Community Church officiated at funeral services Tuesday at 2 p.m., in Beardsley Funeral Home for Lloyd N. Davis, 55, of 2222 Froude St., who died Friday in a hospital after a six-month illness.

Mr. Davis was born in Salt Lake City. He attended school in Buhl, Idaho, and business college in Salt Lake City, and came to Ocean Beach in 1942. He was an accountant for Medina & Monise Enterprises.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy, and his mother, Mrs. George Davis of Buhl, Idaho.

MRS. ELIZABETH DUSENBURY, Loma Portal elementary school teacher was one of the busiest of the 75 teachers enrolled in the City Schools' summer workshop which ended last week (July 30). Here Mrs. Dusenbury (left) displays some of the several score animal wood cutouts she made for her kindergarten room to Mrs. Marjorie Elliott, first grade teacher at Loma Portal last year. Mrs. Elliott will teach at Whittier elementary school this year.

O. B. Unit 433 Installation Is Set For Tonight

Ocean Beach, Unit 433, American Legion, will hold public installation of officers, jointly with the Post, on Thursday evening at eight, August 5th in the Ocean Beach Women's Clubhouse, Muir and Bacon streets.

Doris Davenport will be installed as president for the second term; Emma Bumbaugh will serve her fourth year as treasurer, and Myrtle Orrick will be installed for the third time as secretary. A former Unit President, Florence Allen will serve as second vice-president; E. Ward as First vice-president; Addie Cooper, chaplain; Elizabeth Finley, Historian and Grace Chadwick, sergeant-at-arms.

The Unit 6 Ritual team will install the auxiliary.

A message from the 22nd District vice-president, Nell Barker, informed Myrtle Orrick, both district and Unit Civil Defense chairman, that Ocean Beach Unit won first place in the State at Department Convention, in the furtherance of the Civil Defense program, for the past year.

Babes In Toyland Tickets On Sale

Tickets go on sale this week for "Babes in Toyland", Recreation Round-Up Operetta to be presented in Balboa Park Bowl on August 26 and 27 at 8 p.m. as a Cerebral Palsy Foundation benefit.

Members of the cast and the Foundation will sell tickets as will all city playground directors. Tickets will be delivered to those who call the Cerebral Palsy Foundation on BE-9-2032.

"Babes in Toyland," starring the outstanding teen-age talent in San Diego County, is being produced by the City Park and the supervision of Maria Field-Recreation Department under the supervision of Maria Field-Recreation, Choral director will be Carl Dewse, dramatics director, Charles Jeffers, and musical director, Walter Peterson. The production will feature a cast of 31 actors, and Junior Civic Ballet of 50 members, a Junior Civic Chorus of 79 and the 80-member San Diego Youth Symphony.

The Victor Herbert operetta marks the climax of the Park and Recreation Department's huge summer vacation program

By Edna M. Muller

Don't put your "heart" into it when making pancake batter—overbeating can make it tough and leathery. When there are still a few small lumps in the batter that's the time to stop stirring—for fluffy pancakes.

Ever look at a boy's dream? I have! In fact I've been looking at hundreds of dreams, these past few weeks, of the nation's best boy craftsmen who have, by pure determination, created model cars in their spare time (about 600 hours) since last fall. The reason for this diligence and patience has been the hope of earning one of the eight university scholarships awarded annually by the Fisher Body Craftsmen Guild. Even being adjective-happy it's impossible to describe these beautiful, built-to-scale models—but one does feel a warm glow of contentment in the knowledge that the future of the world is in the hands of these boys, and boys just like them. Be they doctors, engineers, farmers, educators or salesmen—such endeavor, patience and imagination applied to the future—makes the world look all right!

It can be very gosh-grabbing to constantly find a couple of pairs of socks or trousers on the closet floor because of their slipping off hangers. We solved this by winding adhesive tape spiral fashion around the bar of the hanger!

If you decide to repaint your spladder—remember to sprinkle little clean sand on each step before the paint dries—it provides a non-slip surface. A good safety measure! And incidentally, a draw pull handle fastened to the side of the ladder makes for easy carry.

Make Cleanliness Fun

This young mother is taking the first step with her young son to teach him that bathing can be fun. Assisted by new bath sponges molded out of polyvinyl-formal in the shape of a duck, a fish, a seal and a turtle, he is learning to associate play with what used to be a disagreeable chore to some children.

Asserting that cleanliness begins in infancy, nationally known pediatric authority, Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D. writes, "Babies love to play in water. They look forward to the bath as an especially agreeable playtime. The getting clean is quite incidental and sometimes gets in the way a little with the play. Go easy, and make sure that nothing happens that frightens or hurts. Water that is too hot or too cold, soap in the eyes can so distress a baby that he won't want to go near the tub for some time. A rough wash cloth or a scrubby brush applied to dirty knees hurts. Use tepid water. Don't leave the soap in the water. Use something soft to wash him. Some of these new synthetic vinyl sponges are ideal as wash cloths."

WELL, BLOW ME DOWN— A school for juvenile sailors is in operation in the Peninsula Area and seven would-be-salty Point Loma youths go down to sea in boats every week. Teaching them everything from nautical nomenclature to knots is Sailing Master Sonny Altheimer of the San Diego Recreation Department's aquatic division.

These landlubbers are eating it up: Billy Waite, Marcia Hamilton, Betty Sherwin, Karen Adams, Karen Felix, Nancy Glazier and Donna Peterson. Once Donna stepped when she should have stood, or jibed when she should have held on, and is now the sole member of the "mudhen Society".

Beginning in a small way in 1949, the Winward Boat Club now has a fleet of 16 sabots, several canoes, paddle boards and skiffs. Its objective is to teach the youth of San Diego how to handle boats with skill and safety. Boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 17 may join the club after having passed a swimming test. It's just another one of the terrific opportunities offered by the city's Recreation Department.

SEAMEN, TOO— Learning to sail off Shelter Island is another group of Point Loma youngsters, being counseled by Katie Hanna, 16 year old Point Loma High Senior, and quite a sailing enthusiast. Katie has a dozen young gobs: Penny Waite, Dana Giddings, Nancy Olson, Jon Sutherland, Sharon Patrick, Jan DeBakey, Linda Macon, Larry and Steve Cushman, Dan Hostetter, Carole Wade and Karen Knight.

Past commodore of the Starlet Fleet at the San Diego Yacht Club, Katie was winner in the club's Spring Series and also was the first girl to win the Coronado Return this season. This Katie is quite a girl. Besides sailing this summer and going in for water skiing, she finds time to hold down a job at the Snack Bar and swimming pool at Town and Country, practice diving and swimming, and attending summer school where she's taking physics "to get it out of the way".

She has entered the modern Synchronized Swimming Meet at Riverside, Aug. 14-15 and may enter the National Meet at Santa Monica later in the month. Katie is the president of the California Association of Student Councils in this area which has met twice this summer to plan school conventions for next year. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Curtis M. Hanna, 865 Armada Terrace.

HEARD AND LIKED— "I believe in 'bull sessions' on the college campus. They are one of the major features of education. A man sharpens his wit in conversation with others." Dr. H. Gary Hudson, faculty chairman, California Western University, on TV University, Tuesdays, 10:30, Channel 8.

FOREIGN INTRIGUE— A gift every six months from ports all around the world is something Bovees will have the thrill of to look forward to and the Glenn opening six foreign packages in their home at 3225 Whittier. It was a house warming present from Messrs. and Mmes. Vernon Sherwin, William Waite, Clifford Felix, Paul Lovett, Cecil Adams, Raymond Olson, Morris Dudley and Zel Lockwood, who dropped in Sunday evening to say "Happy Home".

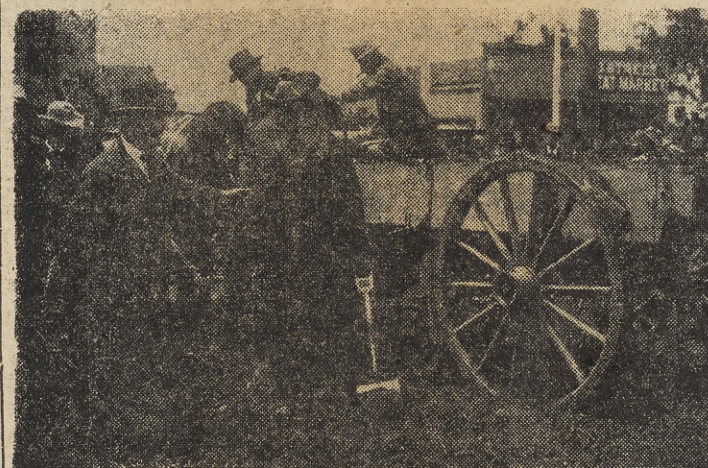

LITTLE TOOT— Karen Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Adams, 3033 Voltaire, got a sabot sail boat for her 14th birthday Sunday. She promptly christened it "Little Toot" and made plans to keep it at the Mission Bay Yacht Club.

SURPRISE PARTY— Mrs. Carl J. Ackerman, past president of the Point Loma Assembly, was surprised with a luncheon given in her honor recently by past officers of the Assembly. Mrs. Glenn Bovee's new home at 3225 Whittier was the scene of the party which presented Mrs. Ackerman with an English condiment set. Invited guests were Mmes. Russell J. Kliegel, Lee Elliott, Kenneth K. Wyckoff, J. J. oel, Clyde Rutledge, E. E. Shaffer, George W. Gardner, Lyman L. Dixon, James Ogle, and Miss Viola Sommermeier. Mrs. Edgar Hervey was co-hostess.

MAIL CALL— Perfectly luscious-looking scenes of Lake Wawase in Syracuse, Indiana come from the Harold Smiths who are spending their summer vacation swimming, golfing and "reading murder mysteries like mad". Their recent visitors were Mrs. Joseph Butcher and her son, John, former San Diegan. Colonel Butcher is in Korea now.

Sold on the "islands" are the Lloyd McCordle children, who report they have five swimming pools to choose from. Twelve

ELKS BREAK GROUND FOR NEW LODGE BUILDING . . . 1906

From the Historical Collection of Union Title Insurance & Trust Company

The history of San Diego is rich in fraternal lore. As early as 1851, members of the Masonic order were meeting in private homes in Old Town. By the booming days of the '80s, other lodges were being founded in great numbers.

San Diego Lodge 168, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was instituted June 8, 1890. Like other fraternal groups of the time, meeting places were many and varied. Starting with 30 charter members, the young lodge met in Horton's Hall, the gas company building, and even in private homes.

This June, 1906 photograph from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company shows the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Elks' Building on the northwest corner of Second and Broadway.

Frank S. Banks, Exalted Ruler, is shown assisting Alonzo Horton, then one of the oldest living Elks and San Diego's first citizen, in the ground-breaking festivities.

The new building was completed in 1907, and since that time has become a famed San Diego landmark. Present membership in Lodge 168 totals more than 1,650.

year old Margaret is taking hula lessons from Huulei, famous hula teacher in Honolulu.

WHO'S NEW IN POINT LOMA

Hailing from Chapel Hill, N.C. are Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Gundelfinger and children, Peter and Joan. The newcomers reside on Nipoma. The doctor is with the Navy.

Lt. Jg and Mrs. B. J. Malling are residing in their home on Canon street. The Mallingers came here from Chicago and are thrilled with the Peninsula area.

Now calling Point Loma home are Marine Lt. Col. (ret) and Mrs. S. J. Zsigra and their daughter Patricia. The young lady will attend State College this Fall.

Loma Portal welcomed Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hays and their children Danny and Melissa, when they moved into their own home on Zola street recently.

Pine Valley, Calif. was not easy, but arriving in Point Loma made the move more than worthwhile is the way Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wisdom feel. They have two youngsters, Michael and Anita.

"Go West" was just what the N. Malling family did when they came to Point Loma from Wheeling, W. Va. Ethel Malling, er will attend State College this Fall.

Jason, Jill and Becky agree with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Shockney that the Peninsula Area is a fine place to live. The family comes from Albuquerque, N. Mex. and are residing on Wisteria.

Back in San Diego for duty is Lt. (jg) and Mrs. E. W. Hamilton and daughter Linda. They came here from Albany, Calif., and are residing on Canon St.

All the way from Hawaii is

Mrs. T. Aki who resides on Canon street with her two sons, Jimmy and Tommy. They came here from Honolulu.

Just a hop, skip and jump from their former home, Pacific Beach, are the B. L. Moss family who have chosen Catalina boulevard as their permanent home.

Here from Poland, Ohio, are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Craig of Plum street. They like their new home for numerous reasons, but particularly because they are so centrally located to the city and beach.

Lt. (jg) and Mrs. H. E. Ruggles find Kingsley St. to their liking as does son Howard. The Ruggles moved here from La Jolla.

More than happy to be home again is Mrs. O. M. Conolly who, with her husband and four children, has been living in Quantico, Va. for the past several years. Colonel Conolly is in the United States Marine Corps. Mrs. Conolly is a former Point Loma high student.

From desert country in Borrego to the cool coastline come Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Castle and their three youngsters. They are residing on Gage Drive in Loma Valley.

Mrs. Harry Harmon is getting settled rapidly in her new home on Gage Place so she will be ready to teach school at Sunset View this Fall. She will instruct the second grade. She and her daughter, Beth, came to Point Loma from La Mesa.

A short move was that from Catalina Boulevard to Fleetridge for the G. Peterson family who are in their new home on Carleton street.

The John J. Delaney's and their four sons are enjoying their new home on Freeman St. The boys will attend St. Augustine and St. Charles schools. Los Angeles was their former home.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Cota and their four boys and one girl moved from Mendota to James street where the family will have more room to circulate.

Finding many points of interest on Point Loma are the L.

R. Giattinos who come from Queens Village, Long Island, N. Y. They are making their home on Scott St. Ensign Giattino is with the Navy.

Lt. (USN) and Mrs. B. J. Hackenson and daughter Leslie, call Kingsley St. their neighborhood. They are residing in their own home after coming her from London, England. Lt. Hackenson just completed duty abroad. Just recently arrived from Honolulu Lt. Cdr. (USN) and Mrs. H. J. Solomon and three children have moved into their own home on Quimby street. After getting settled the family is heading East for a visit with relatives and return prior to the opening of school.

Old Globe's Shakespeare Festival Is One Of Major Tourist Attractions

Providing one of San Diego's major tourist attractions, the San Diego National Shakespeare Festival is now playing at The Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park. Featuring 3 plays in repertory, "Othello", "Twelfth Night" and "The Merchant of Venice", the fifth summer season of The Bard's works at The Old Globe enjoys the presence of 3 nationally famous guest directors and 25 scholarship actors from colleges throughout the country. Each of the plays is being presented nightly, including Mondays in rotation, through September 5, at 8 p.m. in the popular Tudor style theatre located behind the California Tower in the Park.

DIRECTORS
Directing the plays are Frank McMullen, a professor of drama at Yale University and the only American ever to have been invited to direct at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon, England; Patrick Wymark, resident director at Stanford University who was formerly associated with the old Vic Players in London, England; and Philip Hanson, member of the drama department at Washington State College, and former director at the Ashland Shakespeare Festival, Ashland, Oregon.

Generosity

25 scholarships have been given to talented acting and technical students from 9 colleges in the country. Made possible only by the generous gifts of local people interested in the cultural and economic possibilities of a national drama event in San Diego, the Festival scholarships offer excellent experience to the young actors as well as assure the Festival of the best available talent for the 1954 edition of Shakespeare at The Old Globe, the most ambitious yet undertaken.

"Othello", directed by Frank McMullen, stars Dona Wegner and Gerald Charlebois, an acting team from San Jose State College, as the tragic Desdemona and Othello. The Wily Iago is played by Jack Sowards from the University of Texas.

"Twelfth Night"'s director, Patrick Wymark, chose Gretchen Grills from Stanford as the beautiful Olivia and Frank Kin-sella, also from Stanford, as her sadly misguided suitor, Malvolio. Miller Bushway of San Diego drew rave reviews for his opening night performance as the up-toracious Sir Toby Belch.

Comedy-Drama

Shakespeare's delightful combination of comedy and drama, "The Merchant of Venice", directed by Philip Hanson, stars Joe H. Hearne, from the University of Texas, in the role of the vengeful Shylock. Bob Halvorsen, San Diego State College student, plays Bassanio and Dorothy Chace, a San Diego girl studying drama at Yale University, appears in the role of the beautiful and intelligent Portia.

As in past Old Globe Shakespeare productions, the Old English Fair precedes each play. Directed by Joseph Swedellius, authentic Elizabethan folk dances are performed on the Green in front of The Old Globe before Good Queen Bess and her royal court. Bill Eaton and Lillie Mae Barr are again offering English tea and tarts from the little booths along the edge of Green during the Fair and the intermissions.

Tickets for the Festival are available at The Old Globe box office and reservations are easily made by telephone as during the regular Old Globe season and will be held at the box office until 8 p.m. the evening of the performance. Mail reservations are also being accepted at P. O. Box 2171, San Diego, 12.

New Cafe Open On Newport Avenue

Another new business has been added to Newport avenue. It is the Roma Pizza Cafe which is located at 5027 Newport. The cafe will serve pizza pie, spaghetti, bar-b-que spare ribs and one-half fried chicken as their specialties.

The cafe has been remodeled and the finest pizza ovens installed along with other modern equipment. Chefs are Frank Gentile and Jerry Martin. The cafe also specializes in home parties.

Preventing Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis and automobile accidents may seem to have little in common, but they are alike in that both can be prevented. Both rank tragically high among causes of death in this country.

In 1950, highway accidents caused 33,577 deaths, and tuberculosis 33,633. Gross death rates from both causes were thus identical, 22 per 100,000.

Most of us are familiar at first hand with the perils of the highway. Almost daily we see newspaper accounts of spectacular motor accidents. We are all aware of the need for preventive measures.

Although tuberculosis is less spectacular and less publicized, we must not forget that it can be just as deadly as a car out of control. And just as necessary. Knowledge of the facts about the disease is the first preventive weapon.

Tuberculosis is a chronic, communicable disease caused by a germ called the tubercle bacillus, which is spread from person to person. It is not inherited, any more than is careless driving. It does not attack just the young and frail. Anybody can catch TB, rich or poor, young or old.

The "rules of the road" to prevent tuberculosis require a balanced, nourishing diet; plenty of sleep; moderate outdoor recreation; clothing suited to the weather to prevent colds; avoiding people who do not cover coughs and sneezes; and having a regular medical examination with a chest X-ray at least once a year.

Tuberculosis seldom shows any outward symptoms in the early stages, but the X-ray can detect it. The sooner TB is discovered, the better are the chances for quick recovery, and the smaller are the chances for the germs to find new victims.

The Long Trail
Junipero Serra was 56 years of age when on March 28th, 1769, he struck out on the long trail for Alta, California. For twenty years he had been hiking all over New Spain on the business of the King, the Lord and Saint Francis of Assisi—and on a crippled leg, at that. But to Serra it was all in a day's work. With no scrip in his purse, and with only a piece of bread and a hunk of cheese in his commissariat, he stepped out nonchalantly on a 1000-mile jaunt up the King's Highway.

Which brings up a condition. Trillo, the Royal Commissary, was indeed a niggardly soul. The Visitor-General had given him orders to outfit the Sacred Expedition well and generously. But Trillo had his own definitions for those terms. To Father Serra's pack train he gave the poorest, most worthless equipment, the wormiest beans, the stingiest armament the King's Quartermaster Department had in California. The soldiers insisted on serviceable guns, but Trillo was adamant. When but a few days out of Loreto, one of these same guns blew p in a soldier's hands—and the victim was on the sick list the rest of the way to San Diego.

As for the good padre, he wrote in his journal: "... from my Mission of Loreto I did not take more provision for so long an excursion than one loaf of bread and a piece of cheese. For I was there all of the year, so far as temporal affairs go, as the mere guest for the crumbs of the Royal Commissary, whose liberality at my departure did not extend further."

Thus, four days after Rivera and Serra's good friend had set out from Velazquez to find the path to San Diego, Father Serra with his hunk of bread and his chunk of cheese—and his crippled limping leg—shook the dust of the commissary department from his sacred sandals. With a benediction for Loreto, the capital of Baja California—and assured that the blessing of Our Lady of Loreto was with him on his journey, he stepped out on the sun-scorched trail for San Diego, future capital of Alta California.

He arrived that same day at the Mission San Francisco Xavier. There his old friend and student from Mallorca, Francisco Palou, had charge. He remained three days, arranging with Palou, who had been named to succeed Serra as President of the Lower California missions, for the proper administration of the peninsular establishments while he himself was busied with mission management in the upper country. Serra had had both Palou and Crespi as students at the University of Palma in Mallorca, where he had been a professor of philosophy. Together, the three had come to New Spain in 1749. For a score of years they had been closely associated in various missionary projects of the College of San Fernando at Mexico City.

When Junipero Serra was elected by the College to take charge of the former Jesuit missions of the Peninsula, both Palou and Crespi volunteered to go with him. Now the three were associated in the new projects for San Diego and Monterey. For while Crespi and Serra were already on the march, Palou was taking over the latter's administrative job in order that his old teacher might go. He helped out toward this long hike in a material way, also. As he closed his book on San Francisco, Serra wrote these words in his journal:

"... the said Father supplied that lack with so efficacious arrangements—in the way of his provision of food, clothing for my use, and comforts for my journey—that not even I could manage to contrive them—though for my sins I do not cease to be found of my convenience. May God repay so much charity!"

And now, on April 1st, 1769, we find Serra once more on the blistering trail for San Diego.

WHO'S NEW IN POINT LOMA
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Blanton and daughter, Barbara, moved to Goldsmith street after residing in El Cajon. The young lady will attend Pt. Loma High this Fall.

Dr. and Mrs. L. Levitt have moved into their lovely new home in Fleetridge. They formerly lived on Dove street. Their two sons, Harvey and Gordon, will attend State College and S. D. High.

A slight move was made by Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Griffith when they took over their new home on Willow street after living on Rosecrans. One thing they did not lose in the move was the beautiful view of the bay.

Health Workshop To Attract Educators

Local school kids will be exposed to a "barned new" outlook on health education when they trudge back to their classrooms this fall.

This new slant on school health instruction promises to be one of the main outgrowths of the third annual Health Education Workshop, scheduled to be held at State College Aug. 9 through Aug. 20.

Glenn Arnett, director of the two-week session and coordinator of health, physical education, and recreation for San Diego County Schools, said that more than 100 teachers, school nurses, and administrators will participate in the workshop.

Arnett will be assisted by a staff of seven local and national consultants, all well-known in their fields. He said participants will re-evaluate current teaching methods under the spotlight of group study.

More than 20 local health and welfare organizations have joined to set up a special exhibit room for use by participants. On display will be the many resources and services offered the community by the agencies. Projectors will be available for viewing the latest educational and health films.

Assuring an adequate representation of local educators, the San Diego County Tuberculosis and Health Association has awarded more than 40 scholarships to city and county school personnel.

Grants to make the workshop possible have come from the TB Association, the local branch of the American Cancer Society, and the San Diego Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Three out of four accidents occur on dry roads and in clear weather reports your San Diego may factors in causing the nation's tragic highway accident County Traffic Council. Carelessness and alcohol are the toll.

In 1953 one person was killed in a traffic accident every 14 minutes. Alert drivers could have prevented at least 50% of this needless tragedy your San Diego County Traffic Safety Council reports.

THE ROMANCE OF SPICES

BY WEBB

Pepper — the World's Most Popular Spice!

There's a shaker of ground black pepper on every dining table. The United States consumes about 35,000,000 pounds a year. It is so familiar a spice, that many people forget its fresh and pungent flavor. Many of our favorite dishes depend on pepper for verve and character.

A golden rarebit would be bland without a sprinkling of spicy pepper. Cream soups would be pallid and uninteresting. Scrambled eggs would be tasteless and dull. And chicken pie would not attain its full majesty without pepper's sharpness.

Pepper, grown in India, is an ancient and honorable spice. It has influenced the destinies of men and nations for centuries. The nation that controls the pepper market controls the world!

Columbus discovered America because he was searching for a sea route to India. Vasco da Gama wrested the pepper market from Genoa and Venice for his native Portugal when he sailed around the Cape of Good Hope.

In our own country, history is inseparably linked with the spice. The great fortunes made by the New England traders were largely founded on the spice trade. The pepper tax represented five percent of young America's total income for about fifty years!

The United States, in its early years, wedged its way into the Dutch monopoly of pepper. Today, we are the world center of the spice trade.

The next time you savor the piquant flavor of fresh black pepper, remember that you are not only using the world's most popular spice, you are using one of the world's oldest, most respected and most romantic seasonings.

SURPRISE SHOWER

A pink and blue surprise shower with storks and booties as motif was given Wednesday, Aug. 4th in honor of Mrs. Henry Grafmoff at her home 1952 Catalina Blvd. Co-hostesses for the gathering of twenty-five friends were Mrs. Howard Staniforth and Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mathews.

The Henry Grafmoffs have recently moved back into their home after returning from Kodi-ak, Alaska where Chief Grafmoff was on duty for the Navy.

Good drivers do everything smoothly, according to the National Automobile Club. When they have to move this way or that in any traffic situation, they do so smoothly and with plenty of warning to other drivers. How are you when you get behind the wheel of your car? Do you do everything smoothly?

Guam Visitor Is Entertained Here

Mrs. Fred Curtis Thompson, president, and Mrs. Ralph Darr, civic chairman, of the Ocean Beach Woman's Club, were hostesses Friday at a luncheon in La Jolla. The fete was followed by a sight seeing tour. Honored guest was Mrs. Agueda Johnston.

Mrs. Johnston, known as the First Lady of Guam, is winding up a three month's visit in the United States. She is on an assignment by the governor of Guam to study measures of combating juvenile delinquency. She is also a delegate to the National Convention of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Darr are old friends of this prominent clubwoman and her family. Mrs. Darr organized the first Girl Scout troop on Guam and worked hand in hand with Mrs. Johnston during the 1930's on the Island.

The Ocean Beach Woman's Club membership will honor the visitor on Monday, August 23 at 1 p.m. with a reception in the club house. An invitation is extended to all clubs and their members.

Four top acts have been signed for "California Capers", the free, twice-daily vaudeville show at the Outdoor Theatre of the California State Fair, Sept. 2 through 12. They are Charles Pickard and his guitar, Donna Kaye, singer and dancer; Vaughn and Wright, vibraphone duo; and Joe and Sally Novelle and their trained dogs.

MULLING WITH MULLER

By Edna M. Muller

What causes otherwise sensible women to throw themselves under the sun's violent rays in an effort to acquire a deep tan in a single day? Extreme sunning can dry, tighten and age the skin, while hair becomes discolored and brittle! If you—1) limit your "first" exposure to the sun and gradually increase the time; 2) don't use soap and water immediately after sunning; 3) use a good suntan oil that cuts out all the sun's rays and lubricate the skin after as well as during exposure; 4) cover your hair; 5) wear reliable sun glasses—you'll be rewarded with a handsome tan in a few weeks—and probably fewer wrinkles this winter!

Don't discard the old expansion gate that you once used to keep the youngsters safe! It can be made into an attractive rose trellis on the side of your house or garage!

A noted news commentator has just celebrated his 60th consecutive broadcast! At first this may not sound too unusual but considering the fact that these are weekly broadcasts—that's 600 weeks of commenting—from 38 countries in all hemispheres, covering many theatres of war, interesting hundreds of leaders in international affairs, business and industry, analyzing global affairs, and—without ever missing a single show! That is unusual and worthy of praise and comment! Happy anniversary Henry J. Taylor!

Burglars make a business out of watching the social columns for announcements of big weddings that are coming up. They know that wedding presents are usually concentrated in one place and the loot is very tempting. So keep this in mind if you have a wedding in the family soon... there's special insurance for such occasions!

"Fashion Forecast" Set For Town And Country Sept. 8th.

Although the entire country is still seeking cool breezes and the women are donning their "Sheerest of Sheers," the Ocean Beach and Old Town Kiwanis have made plans for a complete Fall Fashion Show to be called "Fashion Forecast," to be given at the Town and Country Club, Mission Valley Road, on Wednesday, September 8th at 8 p.m.

This will be staged by a downtown department store with professional models.

An unusual sideline will be this is not "Ladies Only." Men styles will be shown and besides professional models four Kiwanians will step out of their "everyday role" and walk the ramp over the pool, which will be professionally decorated by John Dowell. This quartette is led by the ever popular coach at Point Loma High, Don Giddings. In turn comes Bernard Lamb, known for his Starlight performances. Then natty Ocean Beach barrister, Frank Owen. Insurance man, John Evans will complete the foursome.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lamb will please the large audience with the appropriate song, "September."

Numerous aquatic acts will be put on and a huge poster depicting the Fashion theme by Mary Blythe Aector, who belongs to the Artists' Guild, will glitter under lights beside the pool.

Lovely door prizes will be featured, among which will be a painting by the same artist and a mid-week vacation to Apple Valley Inn, California.

Miniature hat box favors, which will contain perfume, will be of the prominent Fall colors—turquoise and tangerine, glistening with sequins.

The added attraction will be the distinctive buffet which will be served following the door prizes. Sixteen delectable foods have been promised by the management.

Mrs. William Knopp of the Ocean Beach group and Mrs. John B. Clark, Jr., of Old Town are co-chairman of the event. All funds are spent on Welfare of the Door of Hope, Children's Hospital, Youth groups, and needy families will be among those benefitted.

Many clubs have already responded and since the space is limited to 500 tickets, please call Mrs. Knopp, AC-2-1925, Mrs. Clark, AC-3-9165, ticket chairman, Mrs. Glen Cords, AC-3-6969, Mrs. Willard Trask, AC-3-8868, or publicity co-chairman, Mrs. Frank Swan, AC-3-3884, and Mrs. Martin Murphy, AC-3-7451.

Keeping the under surface of the fenders free from mud grease and the like is a money saver, according to the National Automobile Club. The car owner who prefers to ignore the condition of this part of the automobile sooner or later will have his attention called to it by the fact that rust has eaten through the fender. The remedy in such a case is a new part.

In 1953, 30,720 persons were killed and 1,444,190 injured as a direct result of speeding and carelessness on straight a ways. No driving hazards existed, only unsafe drivers. Your Traffic Safety Council asks all motorists to drive carefully.

Day's In A Whirl?

Try Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks

These four layer stacks hold salmon and egg salad fillings and a surprise spread—avocado-cottage cheese.

Go around in circles—but go around in the right way. Make a big ray of Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks. Just right for informal meals are four-layer sandwiches, each serving almost a complete meal.

These Stacks can be made ahead of time, covered loosely with waxed paper and held in the refrigerator until needed a few hours later. To make: prepare your favorite salad fillings—tasty salmon and egg salads. The third filling holds the surprise—a smooth avocado and cottage cheese spread. For this spread, combine 1/4 cup mashed avocado with 1/2 cup cottage cheese and season to taste with salt, celery salt, lemon juice, and Worcestershire sauce.

Spread these fillings on alternate slices of buttered enriched and whole wheat bread. Stack four layers high and cover tops with smooth cream cheese icing, trim crusts and cut diagonally. Arrange triangles in a circle. As a finishing touch to this jiffy summer sandwich entrée, feature a slice of stuffed olive or a glistening emerald pickle fan atop each section.

Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks

8 slices enriched bread
8 slices whole wheat bread
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup salmon salad filling
1/2 cup avocado-cottage cheese filling
1/4 cup egg salad filling
1 1/2 (8-ounce) packages cream cheese
3 tablespoons milk
4 sweet pickles
1 stuffed olive

Spread bread with butter. Cover 4 slices enriched bread with 3 tablespoons salmon salad and a slice of whole wheat bread. Spread 3 tablespoons avocado-cottage cheese filling over whole wheat bread and top with a slice of enriched bread. Spread 3 tablespoons egg salad filling over enriched bread and top with a slice of whole wheat bread. Combine cream cheese and milk and spread over top of each sandwich stack. Trim off crusts. Cut each stack in two, on the diagonal. Garnish top with a pickle fan or slice of stuffed olive. Arrange triangles on a platter to form a pinwheel pattern.

YIELD: 8 Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks.

More than 300 exhibitors are expected to enter dairy products in the California State Fair competition for gold medals this year, Sept. 2 through 12. Dairy Day will be celebrated Sept. 8 on the fairgrounds, with Shirley Good of Pasadena reigning as Dairy Queen.

Children's Hospital Will Be Dedicated Week From Sunday

The Children's Hospital of the San Diego Society for Crippled Children will be dedicated at 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 15, it is announced by Morley H. Golden, president.

The $1,500,000 institution, goal of the Society for many years, is adjacent to the Donald N. Sharp Community Memorial Hospital, located on Highway 395 just north of Linda Vista. Construction was started in April, last year.

Open house will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on dedication day and the preceding Saturday. Golden expressed the hope that residents of the entire County area serviced by the hospital will inspect the building and its facilities which he said are the most modern of any similar institution in the United States.

The Children's Hospital will have 44,500 square feet of floor space area, 59 beds, and complete facilities for treatment of the physically handicapped. Charges are based on parents' ability to pay, although in many cases there is no charge. The hospital will be a medical center for all children regardless of race, color or creed.

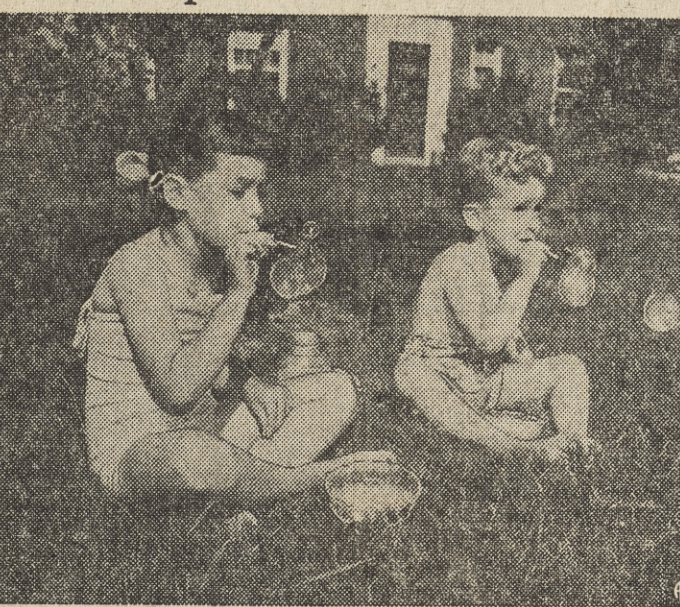

The Society, formed in 1932, built and operated a therapy pool and clinic. In 1950, the Society and Children's Convalescent Hospital were consolidated. It was through the joint efforts of both organizations that this general hospital for children has now become a reality.

Hawaiian Luau To Be O.N.O. Club's Party Theme Sun.

An "Hawaiian Luau" will be the theme of the O.N.O. Club's annual beach party to be held on Sunday from 4 to 10 p.m. All attending will be attired in the Hawaiian motif.

This outdoor festivity will be held in the Mission Bay Yacht Club. Leis will be distributed at

Blow Soap Bubbles For Summer Fun

Who complains about the heat when you can blow such glorious soap bubbles out on the front lawn? Junior seems a little skeptical about the wind to leeward, but sister can't wait until that special soap-and-water formula creates a really gigantic bubble. Their mother helped them with the "recipe" and added one tablespoon of glycerine to a jar of rich soapsuds. As these two tots will tell you—this makes the bubbles bigger, more colorful, and "tougher" so that they last longer.

The O.N.O. (Our Needy Ones) Club operate a Thrift Shop at 927 "E" street to aid in the Door of Hope Home located in Ocean Beach. In ten months time the club gave $1400 to the Home. Officers of the club include: Mrs. Everett S. Lloyd, president; Mrs. Frank Sloan, vice-president; Mrs. Neil Harper, treasurer; Mrs. William Phillips, publicity; Mrs. John Winchell, program chairman; Mrs. Owen Clifford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl Foote, secretary; Mrs. William Meek, and Mrs. William Matthews.

Any resident having items which are useable but are to be discarded are urged to call BE-4-1238 and arrangements will be made for pick-up of the items to deliver to the O.N.O. Club's shop.

Your San Diego County Traffic Safety Council reports that more accidents happen on Saturday than any other day but warns that an accident can happen at any time and to you. Always drive cautiously.

INFORMATION POLICE

The "Information Police" program will host James Reading, City Traffic Engineer on its next show.

Mr. Reading will review the history of street lighting in San Diego and explain the important part that adequate lighting plays in the reduction of traffic accidents, particularly those involving pedestrians.

There will be a movie of the "Lamp Lighting" ceremony which was taken this week when the new type street lights were installed on Broadway.

Tune in to "Information Police" this Saturday, Aug. 7, 6:00 to 6:30 p.m., on channel 10, KFSD TV.

Party Honors Rev. O'Donovan

The Altar Society and Holy Name members of Sacred Heart Church, combined to give a farewell party Sunday evening for Rev. Daniel O'Donovan who left Monday for India where he will remain for a month, relieving a pastor.

Monsignor Dillon, pastor of Sacred Heart gave a short farewell talk, followed by goodbyes of Father O'Donovan. His members and friends presented him with a purse as a going-away remembrance. He has been assistant pastor of Sacred Heart for three years.

To the pleasure of all his friends they were assured by both Monsignor Dillon and himself that following his month in India he will return to an appointment in San Diego and in the form of a promotion.

During his stay in Ocean Beach, Father O'Donovan has endeared himself not only to his parishioners, but non-Catholics as well.

"Seven Year Itch" Set For La Jolla

"The Seven Year Itch," the riotous comedy which has been playing on Broadway since November 1952, is scheduled next at La Jolla Playhouse, with Don Taylor, Kathleen Hughes and Willard "The Great Gilder-sleeve" Waterman in the starring roles. Under the direction of Norman Lloyd, "The Seven Year Itch" will begin its two week run Tuesday, August 10.

The presentation of "The Seven Year Itch" makes three current Broadway hits in a row to be produced at La Jolla Playhouse, establishing a new record for this theatre and one as yet unequalled by any other summer theatre in the United States. First of the summer's current Broadway shows seen in La Jolla was "Anniversary Waltz" in which Willard Waterman delighted audiences; and the second is the current production "Sabrina Fair" starring Joseph Cotton and Arlen Whelan, and which has its final performance this Sunday night, August 8.

Wolves Do Not Attack Human Beings

HOME-MADE LIGHTER — Major Fred Brewster, veteran Canadian Rockies outfitter, uses an ember from the camp fire to light his pipe out "on the trail."

MAJOR FRED BREWSTER, a noted Rocky Mountain guide and outfitter, in Jasper National Park, has placed himself squarely with the select few who insist that wolves have not been known to attack human beings. Brewster has never heard of a single case that proved true after investigation.

The veteran outfitter was born in the Rockies 66 years ago. He has since explored — alone and with expeditions — every quarter of the 4200 square miles which make Jasper the largest national park in Canada.

Brewster says by their nature wolves would have to be in good-sized packs to attack a human and be driven to it by great hunger "and they don't go hungry very long in this country," the Major says. He also contends that the real measure of a hunter's ability lies in how near he can approach his prize. Jasper National Park is a game sanctuary but Brewster has guided hundreds of sportsmen beyond the boundaries of the park where bighorn sheep, grizzly and black bear, moose caribou, elk, mule deer and goat abound.

The long-range high-powered firearms of today make it comparatively easy for the hunter to shoot his trophy, he said. The big test is to stalk the animals something in the fashion of the Indians to within 10 or 15 yards to score a mortal hit. This can still be done if the hunter will study the game and the vagaries of nature in the territory where he hunts.

Brewster's friends tell of the Major's feat of a few years ago when he demonstrated this tenet by creeping up on and touching a Rocky Mountain goat. The feat was accomplished in plain view of a number of American guests who were staying at Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies.

Industrial Accident Prevention Meet Set

A. W. Turner will present the keynote discussion at the forthcoming Industrial Accident Institute to be held at the Hotel del Coronado on October 5, according to an announcement by M. J. Shelton and C. O. Taylor, Regional Cochairman.

Turner, Supervisor of Personnel for the Southern California Gas Company, is a recognized authority in Occupational Safety and is past general chairman of the American Society of Safety Engineers. For several years he was Safety Director for the far flung gas distribution system and has been lecturer at both the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles.

His subject will be Accident Investigation Procedures.

The next time you get behind the wheel of your car, try the little trick of driving ahead of your car, of paying careful attention to what's well up ahead. This little trick, points out the National Automobile Club, will make your driving more enjoyable and will help to keep you safe.

Engagement Of Mary Ruth Noel To Dennis R. Wilson Announced Here

Tues. Symphony To Feature A Triple Piano Concerto

A triple piano concerto, with three of the nation's top pianists at the keyboards, will highlight next Tuesday's Summer Symphonies in Balboa Park Bowl.

Lyell Barbour, of Escondido; John Wustman, New York, and Howard Wells, Pasadena, will present Bach's Triple Piano Concerto in D Minor as one of four musical masterpieces which will be heard on the program, the fifth of the current series conducted by the incomparable Robert Shaw.

Final concert in the series of Chamber Music programs is scheduled for next Friday (Aug. 13) at Hoover High school beginning at 8:30 p.m. Bach's "Passion According to St. John," one of the composer's most memorable works, will be presented with soloists from the Metropolitan Opera in starring roles.

The 1954 summer symphony season will wind up August 17 at Balboa Park Bowl with the masterful "Creation" by Hadyn, Shaw's most ambitious undertaking during the series.

TWO NEW AGENCIES TAKEN INTO UNITED SUC. DRIVE

Announcement has been made by the Executive Committee of the San Diego Area Community Chest that two more agencies have been taken into the Second United Success Drive, bringing the total of new agencies this year to three.

The two new agencies are the Urban League of San Diego and the Mental Hygiene Association of San Diego, according to Vice Adm. Wilder D. Baker, USN, ret., president of the Community Chest.

Glenn County will exhibit at California's State Fair again for the first time in many years. County Agricultural Commissioner P. V. Harigan and Mrs. F. A. Kramer of Glenn are in charge. A huge model of Stony Gorge Dam will be the central feature of the exhibit.

St. Peter's Bible School Open Aug. 16

"Pioneering for Christ" is the theme of Vacation Bible School at St. Peter's Lutheran Bible Church. The theme emphasizes living the Christian way of life in the world of today.

Give your child an opportunity to grow in his faith in Christ and to promote his trust in God.

Bible School begins August 16 with registration of all pupils. Classes will be from 9 to 12 a.m. Monday through Friday for two weeks. Pre-school through 9th grade children of all denominations are invited.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Backus of Indianapolis, Ind. three years ago purchased property here and have now just took over occupancy. Their new home is a four unit court in the 5000 block on Narragansett Avenue. They have visited here previously with their daughters, Mrs. Waldo K. Lyon of Alexandria Drive, and Mrs. R. E. Goebel of Pacific Beach. Dr. Backus is a retired Unitarian minister.

Now the lady of the house can swat the summer flies with a sequined fly swatter as she discards her cigarettes for a tiny lady-like pipe. The pipe has a tiny bowl trimmed in brilliant stones. These items were seen in a Newport Avenue gift shop. What next?

Lt. Glenn O. Poplin and Mrs. Poplin and their daughters, Mary and Carol came here from New London, Conn. They lived here eight years ago and still are owners of a house on Cable St. They reside here in their own home in the 4300 block on Piedmont Drive. Miss Mary Poplin will enter Monticello Junior College at Alton, Ill. this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Curtis and daughter, Helen, have moved from 3137 James Street in Loma Portal to their home in the 3800 block on Atascadero, St. Mr. Curtis is deputy district attorney of San Diego. Their son, Richard is in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Boles, Jr. of Phoenix, Arizona are parents of a daughter, born July 1st. She has been named Sherman Annette. She has a 2½ year old brother, Stephen. Maternal grandparents, Sherman and Clara Boles reside here. Dr. and Mrs. Cornell of Kentucky are the paternal grandparents. Sherman's father is a former Ocean Beach resident, attending local schools.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Eicker, who were married on July 2nd in the First Presbyterian Church in San Diego, and originally from Detroit, Mich., are making their first home in the 5000 block on Cape May avenue.

Miss Florence Peasley of Elmhurst, Ill. who is a nurse in a local physician's office, is making her home in the 200 block on Soto street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Moore arrived last week from Gisu, Japan for a visit with Mrs. Moore's sister, Mrs. Adelaide Wilson, 4824 W. Pt. Loma Blvd. Also enjoying the visit are Eugene, Richard and Mondy, sons of Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Campbell came here from Ft. Hood, Texas, where Mr. Campbell spent two years in the Army between Texas and Kentucky. Before his term in the Army the couple resided on Jarvis street. Both are natives of San Diego. They now are here to stay in their own home in the 500 block on Tarento.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Whitney, 4644 Osprey St., became parents of their second son on July 28 at 8:41 a.m. in Quintard Hospital. Scott Howard weighed 9 lbs. 15 ozs. At home he has a brother, Michael, 4, who eagerly awaits his homecoming.

Mrs. Josephine Scribner has recently moved from 4905 Coronado Avenue to her home in the 2100 block on Bacon street. Mrs. Scribner's daughter, Mrs. George Rhoades resides at 1500 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. She came here about a year ago from Iowa, and is a part-time employee at Zeke's Poultry House.

Dr. and Mrs. France G. Goes of Sherman Oaks, California spent Monday here visiting Mrs. Goes' brother, Lt. Comdr. John A. Pierce, USN (ret), Comdr. Pierce entertained the visitors at a luncheon at the Town and Country.

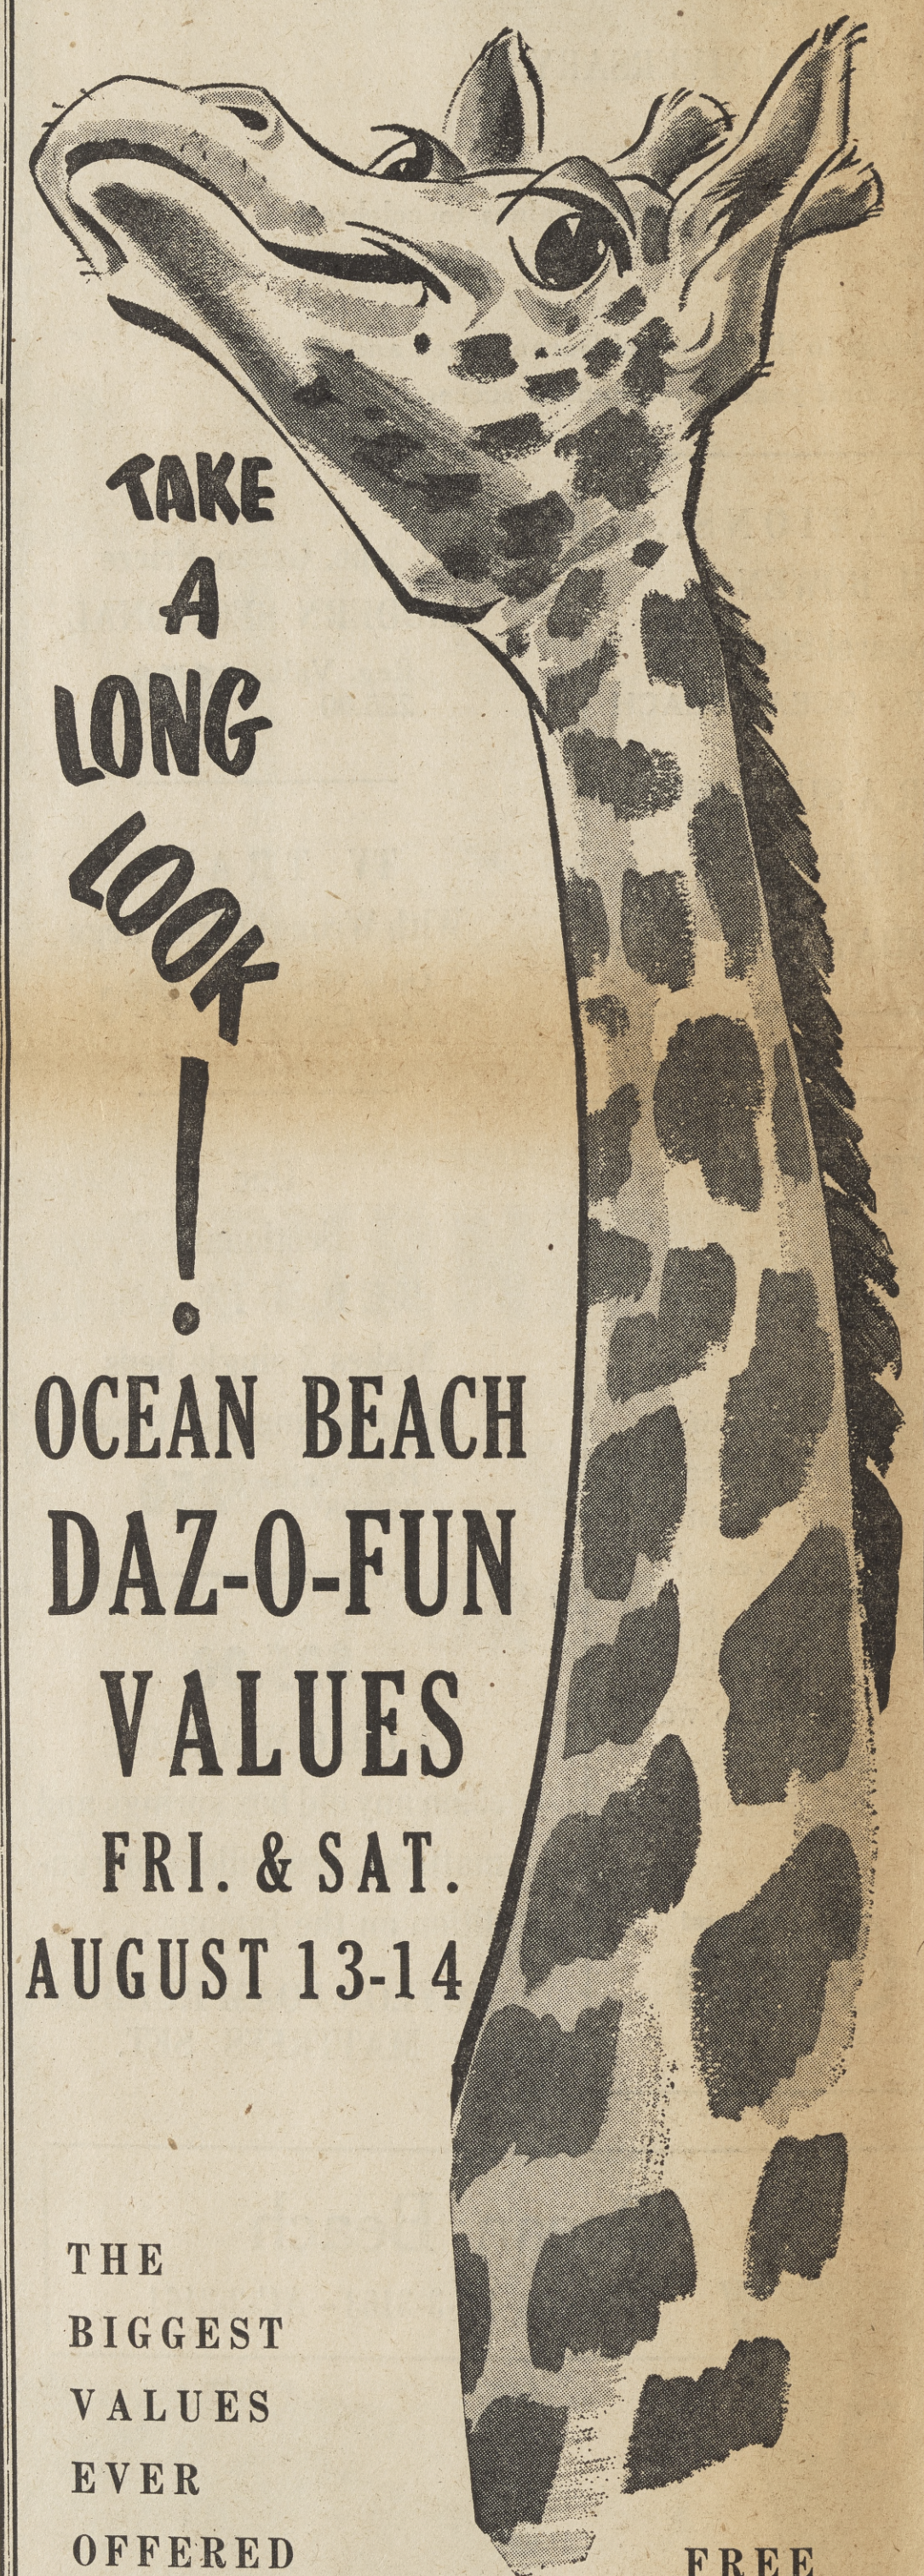

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Horwitz are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Horwitz' sister, Jeanette Katz of Wichita Falls, Texas. They are also looking forward the first of next week to a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Katz and another sister, Jean Ann, also from Wichita Falls. The Horwitz have recently moved from 3012 Emerson St. in Point Loma to their own new home in the 4300 block on Osprey St.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Douglass, 4728 Adair street, believe in really entertaining guests. Miss Violet Benning of Chicago has returned to her home, via plane after a visit of two weeks. She was literally "on the go" all the time as the Douglasses all over San Diego proper, La Jolla, Laguna, Beverly Hills, Los Angeles and Kuotts Berry Farm. Miss Benning is Mrs. Douglass' sister.

Miss Marian Styles of Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived Saturday night to spend several days with her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Davis, called here by the death of her brother-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel of Chicago, Ill., arrived here to make their home at 1582 Froude street. With them are their three daughters, Patricia, Jeanne and Arleen. Mr. Wetzel is with a national insurance company having offices in San Diego.
